

A photograph of two young children playing in a shallow stream. One child, wearing a blue patterned shirt and a blue cap, is leaning over the water. The other child, wearing a red patterned shirt and a black cap, is also leaning over the water. They appear to be playing with rocks or small objects in the water. The background is a soft-focus green, suggesting a natural outdoor setting. The image is framed by a large, stylized blue wave graphic that curves around the text on the left.

IFS is a voluntary service that provides holistic support to families
to promote the
family's functioning,
safety and wellbeing

Intensive Family Support

Eligibility for support:

- ☀ There is a child or children living the family home (unborn to 18 years of age)
- ☀ The family has multiple and complex needs
- ☀ The family would benefit from IFS support
- ☀ The family are at risk of Child Safety becoming involved
- ☀ There is no Child Safety involvement
- ☀ Reside in Bundaberg, surrounding areas and North Burnett (catchment area exists)

A stylized graphic featuring a large, dark blue wave shape on the left, transitioning into a series of white and light blue dots of varying sizes that trail off to the right. The dots are arranged in a way that suggests movement or a path. The overall design is modern and clean, with a focus on the blue and white color palette.

IMPACT
COMMUNITY SERVICES

Improving lives since 1978

108 Bargara Rd, Bundaberg Q 4670

Phone: 07 4153 4233

Free Call: 1800 179 233

IMPACT.ORG.AU

FREE support is provided to all families members living in the family home aimed at building the skills and capacity of parents and carers to safely nurture and protect their children.

Support is catered to family's specific supports needs and goals and may include the following;

-  Household management and routine development
-  Strategies on how to deal with children's behaviour
-  Life skills development i.e. budgeting, cooking, training course or drivers licence, etc.
-  Developing healthier self-care strategies
-  Support with managing difficult relationships, including family violence
-  Support with your children's health and education
-  Referral pathways to other services

Referrals can be made on-line at familychildconnect.org.au

